King George's Body Taken To London In Downpour

Crowds Line Path Of Funeral Cortège On Way To Capital

LONDON—King George VI returned to his capital today for the last time. His mourning subjects paid homage as his funeral cortege wound through crowded, silent streets.

His train, bearing Queen Elizabeth II and her family, edged noiselessly into King's Cross Station in a downpour of rain and

Pennsylvania Drafts Reply To Lausche

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—A Pennsylvania turnpike official last night disputed Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche's statement that Pennsylvania had broke an agreement over use of the turnpike's western extension by heavy trucks.

T. J. Evans, chairman of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, said Lausche's statement was "not true" and that the Ohio governor had been "misinformed."

Evans declined further comment, saying the Pennsylvania commission would issue a full statement today.

Agreed Year Ago

Gov. Lausche said Saturday that turnpike commissioners from Ohio and Pennsylvania agreed at a meeting in March, 1951, that truck traffic would be diverted at Homewood, Pa., until Ohio builds its own turnpike. Traffic was to enter Ohio via Pennsylvania Route 18 and U. S. Routes 224 and 422, which can handle heavy trucks, Lausche said.

"Contrary to the general agreement," Lausche said, "Pennsylvania did not distribute the heavy trucks at the Beaver Valley interchange at Homewood. This interchange is still under construction, and in addition, Pennsylvania's Route 18 has been closed for repairs, and thus has not been used to carry the heavy trucks from the Beaver Valley interchange northward to New Castle."

Lausche said Ohio was keeping its part of the agreement to improve roads linking to Routes 18, 224 and 422 in Pennsylvania.

When the western extension opened last December, heavy trucks poured off the turnpike at the Ohio border, jamming traffic in the Petersburg area and causing damage to a temporary access road.

Later, Ohio Highway Director T. J. Kauer imposed weight limits on roads at the Ohio border, forcing trucks onto secondary Pennsylvania roads. Then Pennsylvania put weight limits on these roads, forcing the trucks to leave the turnpike 35 miles inside Pennsylvania and enter Ohio over their old routes.

Bill To Strike Blow At Narcotics Source

WASHINGTON (AP)—Another and tougher blow was aimed today at the narcotics racket already staggered by sweeping raids which reportedly have cut teen-age addiction in half.

Rep. Sabath (D-Ill.) said he would introduce today a bill striking at sources of supply, rather than at peddlers.

The measure would make ship-owners, banks and insurance companies responsible for importation of any illicit narcotics in cargoes with which they deal. Heavy penalties are proposed, even to putting third offenders out of business.

But the bill doesn't stop there: Sabath wants to cut off all American military and economic aid and withdraw all trade privileges to countries which refuse to enter an agreement to limit output of narcotics to the minimum required for legitimate use.

PERSONAL INCOMES UP

WASHINGTON (AP)—Total personal incomes jumped 12 percent in 1951, to 251 billion dollars, but the rate of climb slackened during the last six months. Reporting this comparison with 1950 yesterday, the Commerce Department added that total individual incomes had advanced too, an annual rate of 257 billion by the end of 1951. This compares with 238 billions at the end of 1950.

29 Dead In New Jersey Crash

CRASHED PLANE KILLS PARATROOPERS. This is the wreckage of a twin-engine Army plane which crashed on take-off from Wheeler-Sack Airfield at Camp Drum, N. Y., killing several paratroopers from the 11th Airborne division and injuring nearly a score of others. The aircraft was taking part in winter maneuvers.

UMT Opposition Registered In Mail Received By Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—If the sentiments of a majority of Ohio's 23-member house delegation are a barometer, the universal military bill is heading into rough weather.

The bill is expected to come up for house consideration during the last week of February.

It would create a UMT program for 18-year-old youths—a program that would go into effect when Congress or the President decided it should.

Thirteen of Ohio's representatives have registered opposition either to the bill reported out by the House Armed Services Committee last week or to the principle of universal military training itself.

Several said they haven't yet made up their minds on the pending bill.

Only one, Rep. Frazier Reams of Toledo, Congress' only Independent, is out in front in support of UMT.

This being election year, many congressmen are approaching the UMT issue with caution.

Ever since the new session of Congress started, Ohio congressional offices have been receiving heavy mail on UMT, with the great bulk of it against the proposal.

The UMT mail got so big in one office, that of Republican Rep. Jackson E. Betts of Findlay, extra help had to be recruited to answer it.

Ohio's two Republican members of the House Armed Services Committee, Reps. Charles H. El-

Flood Threat Cited In Mahoning District

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—The Mahoning river valley is in constant danger of floods that could knock out its industrial might, says Kenneth M. Lloyd, secretary of the Mahoning Valley Industrial Council.

Only construction of the $58,000,000 Mahoning-Grand River floodway can alleviate the danger, Lloyd said in statements filed in Washington.

The project would provide both flood control and low flow regulation for the valley's production area, in addition to cutting down pollution.

Lloyd's statement was filed with the board of Army engineers for rivers and harbors, Congressman Michael J. Kirwan and Ohio Senators Robert A. Taft and John W. Bricker.

FUGITIVE CAUGHT
ERIE, Pa. (AP)—The second of three prisoners who escaped from the Erie County jail Jan. 28 is back behind bars today. James A. Daye, 28, of Erie, was caught by state police and a patrolman from nearby North East after a 10-mile police chase near that town yesterday.

9 Die, 117 Hurt In War Games

New York Maneuver Claims 7 On Sunday

CAMP DRUM, N. Y. (AP)—The big-scale winter war game of the Army and Air Force entered its third day today with a death toll of seven providing grim overtones of realism.

A paratrooper plane crash, a railroad crossing smashup and accidents in parachute jumps yesterday claimed seven lives. Nine were injured in the "warfare" phase of "Exercise Snowfall."

The toll since the first practice phase of the exercise started a month ago rose to nine dead and 117 injured.

Four of those who died yesterday were crewmen of a C-46 transport loaded with paratroopers, which crashed in taking off from Wheeler-Sack Airfield here. Five others were injured seriously enough to require hospitalization.

The nose of the plane, in which the crew was located, was ripped apart by the impact, but the passenger section in which 32 fully equipped soldiers were riding, was damaged only slightly.

Camp officials said safety belts undoubtedly saved many lives.

The twin-engine craft went into a sharp, banked turn as it was airborne and cartwheeled when a wingtip struck the ground.

Two men were killed and five were hospitalized when a truck participating in the maneuvers was struck by a freight train at a grade crossing.

The third paratrooper to die in jump accidents since the start of the exercises was killed shortly after the plane crash. Nine others were injured.

Railroader Knocked Out, Robbed Of $40

Robert Payton, 25, of Alliance, a Pennsylvania Railroad worker, told police that someone struck him over the head at approximately 7:45 p.m. Saturday as he was crossing a siding in the southern part of town and stole $40 from his wallet.

Payton said that he didn't see anyone before or after he was struck and surmised that his assailant had emerged from behind a boxcar on the tracks. He discovered the theft when he regained consciousness, a short time later, he said. The empty wallet had been replaced in his pocket.

Maj. Davis, Top U.S. Jet Ace, Is Shot Down

Plane Crashes In Big Air Battle Over MIG Alley Sunday

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force announced today that Major George A. Davis Jr., America's top combat pilot of the Korean War, is missing in action.

The Air Force said Davis' plane was shot down yesterday and that his plane was seen to crash and no parachute was observed. The 31-year-old flyer's wife, Doris, lives at Lubbock, Tex.

Davis is credited with having shot down 14 enemy aircraft since his first combat mission last Nov. 1. Eleven were MIG-15s—two before he crashed—and three TU2s. The MIG is a jet fighter, the TU2 a light bomber.

Additionally, the Air Force said, Davis probably destroyed one MIG15 and damaged one other plus damaging another TU2.

The oft-decorated pilot apparently was shot down in the big air battle yesterday in which 100 MIG-15s were involved. An Air Force spokesman said it is likely Davis' plane was hit by a Communist jet, since he was flying an F86 jet, and none of these has yet been destroyed by enemy ground fire.

Davis flew for the 34th Fighter Interceptor Squadron, of the 4th Fighter Interceptor Wing.

He has been decorated with the Silver Star, the Distinguished Flying Cross with one Oak Leaf Cluster and the air medal with seven oak leaf clusters.

During World War II, Davis flew with the 348th Fighter Group in the Pacific and took part in 266 combat missions. He shot down seven Japanese planes.

The Davis' have two children, a daughter, Mary Margaret, and a son, George.

Truman Asks Extension Of Controls

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman, saying the country must prevent the fires of inflation "from breaking out," asked Congress today for a two-year extension of price and wage controls. This would keep them in force until mid-1954.

In a special message the President also assailed "bad legislation" three of the changes congress made in the defense production act (the controls law) last summer.

He asked specifically for repeal of the Capehart, Herlong and Butler-Hoey Amendments.

And he asked, too, for restoration of the power the government had under the original law to regulate consumer and real estate credit.

The amendments Mr. Truman particularly attacked, and their sponsors were:

1. By Senator Capehart (R-Ind.), requiring that price ceiling allow for cost increases between the start of the Korean War and July 26, 1951.

2. By Rep. Herlong (D-Fla.) forbidding a price ceiling on any item which does not allow wholesalers and retailers the same percentage of profit they earned before Korea.

3. By Senator Butler (R-Neb.) and Rep. Hope (R-Kan.), forbidding federal livestock slaughtering quotas.

Plane Third To Plummet At Elizabeth

ELIZABETH, N. J. (AP)—A crippled airliner roared down into this frightened, crash-plagued city today, sliced into a big apartment house and blew up—the third major air disaster within the city in less than two months.

There were 29 known dead, and three persons unaccounted for making a possible death toll of 32. At least 115 have perished in the three, successive residential district crackups.

The National Airlines DC-6, disabled by engine trouble at a thousand feet in a clear mid-night sky, nosed over—and like two others before it—plunged down into the city, as residents cringed before the familiar, on-coming scream.

The plane rammed into the 52-family dwelling, and exploded into flying fragments and fire.

Twenty-eight of the 63 persons aboard the Miami-bound plane, including three of the four-member crew, were dead or missing. At least four apartment house residents were killed. Forty persons, most of them the plane's survivors, were injured about one third of them seriously.

Newark Airport Closed
The new tragedy forced a hasty shutdown of air traffic at nearby Newark airport, one of the busiest in the east. The field's operations, in the words of Elizabeth's Mayor James T. Kirk, had placed this city under an "umbrella of death."

The airport's traffic was diverted to Idlewild and La Guardia airports in New York City and also to Philadelphia.

Minutes before the four-engine airliner crashed at 12:20 a.m., its pilot messaged that two engines had failed. Told to return to the field, he radioed a last frantic "can't make it."

The pilot, Capt. W. G. Foster, died in the crash.

Then, the big plane plunged downward like a meteor, streaming gasoline behind it. The ominous roar of its descent kindled terror in residents below. Twice before since mid-December they had heard that sound and twice before flaming death struck among them.

Hits Apartment House
The plunging national airliner knifed through the top floor of the four-story brick apartment house, wiping out one whole family of three. Another resident died on the second floor, screaming behind a wall of flames.

The plane caromed off the building, slinging wreckage for hundreds of yards around. The

Weatherman Predicts Snow Or Rain

Salemites contended with strong winds and a few snow flurries today but the mercury remained near the freezing mark, normal for this time of year.

State Forecaster C. G. Andrus said that the contrast throughout Ohio with Sunday's balmy readings made the weather seem much colder than it was.

He pointed out that February so far has averaged well above normal temperatures so far. The mercury will range in the middle or upper 20's tonight, he predicted, with clear skies and diminishing winds.

Increasing cloudiness, with a possibility of rain or snow, is expected Tuesday afternoon.

None Injured In Two Highway Accidents

No one was injured in the two highway accidents investigated by State Highway Patrolmen Saturday.

Cars driven by Duane H. Nelson, 21, of Columbiana, William H. Eckman, 27, of New Springfield, and Harry Sipe, 52, of Somerset, Pa., collided at 8:15 p.m. on Route 14, one mile east of Washingtonville. The cars were all headed west at the time of the mishap.

Thomas A. Headley, 26, of 536 Walnut St., told patrolmen that as he was driving south on Route 45 near Lisbon at 3:15 p.m., he swerved his car to the right to avoid colliding with an auto that stopped suddenly in front of him, causing his car to leave the road and hit a tree.

Construction Trends

Low Volume, High Quality
To Mark '52 Home Production

ALTHOUGH home production in 1952 may be low in volume, due to government controls, quality will be high.

That was the way Alan E. Brockbank, new president of the National Association of Home Builders, described the housing picture for 1952.

The nationally-known builder listed ten major developments in the design and construction of homes that will make the house of 1952 the best value for the money in home building history, provided builders can obtain the needed mortgage financing and critical materials.

The ten new housing features listed by the Salt Lake City builder were:

(1) Non-bearing interior walls which allow use of movable interior partitions. In some cases, interior walls will be floor-to-floor ceiling storage wall units or even floor-to-ceiling bookcases which swing out on hinges.

(2) Increased use of dual winter heating and summer air conditioning units. A limited supply of such equipment is now being produced at a price which allows its use in homes costing as low as $12,000 in some areas.

Condensers reuse water so units can even be used in areas of water shortages.

(3) Floor plans especially designed for easy expansion. In most cases, expansion to a third bedroom is through a closet. After expansion, the closet becomes a hall to the third bedroom. When homes are pre-planned for expansion it eliminates ill planned third bedrooms cutting off views and ventilation of bath and kitchen.

(4) Rising popularity of recessed and indirect lighting and supplementary floor lamp lighting.

(5) Rising popularity of furniture which is designed and built for use in today's contemporary-styled home. Dual furniture, such as one table which doubles as a coffee table, table for four and table for eight, will see increased usage. This type of furniture is especially attractive in today's compact home. It provides more living area through uncluttered design.

(6) Increased use of simplified roofs. More living room ceilings which follow the contour of the roof.

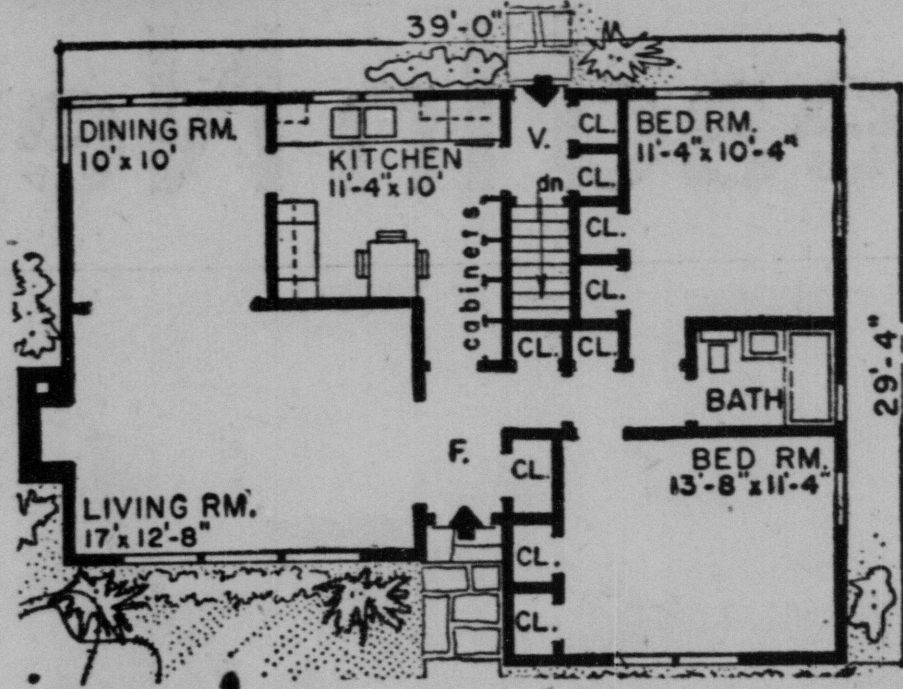

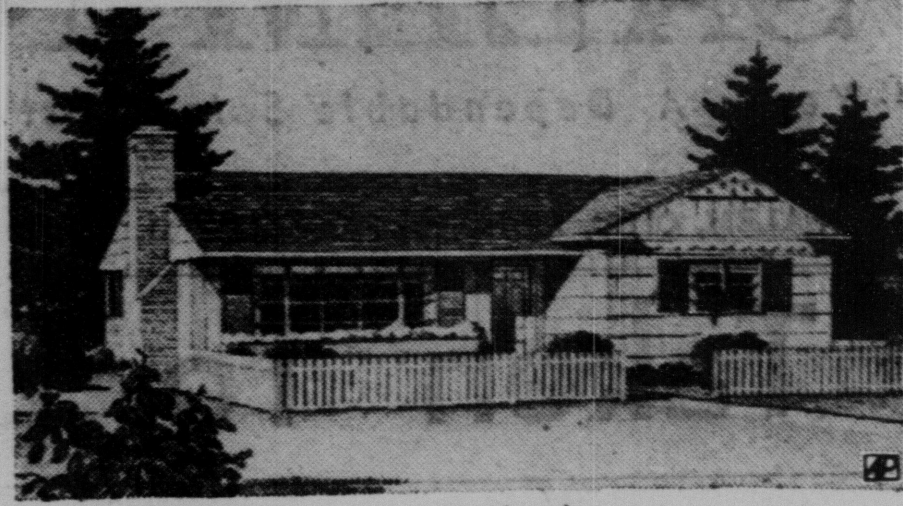

(7) Increased use of electric appliances including garbage disposal, dishwasher, stove, refrigerator, clothes-washer, clothes dryer. More exhaust fans in rooms other than the kitchen—bath, basement, recreation room and hallway. This is a low-cost approach to air conditioning.

(8) More coordinated color schemes with resulting variety of appearance throughout a subdivision or community.

(9) Increased usage of new type concrete slab foundations in areas where unstable soil conditions are found. The slabs are so engineered that if the outside foundation shifts, all inside parts of the foundation will shift proportionately.

(10) The trend towards built-ins will continue. Housewives will see kitchens in which the stove has literally been taken apart and the baking oven, broilers and burners placed for the convenience of the housewife.

The big theme of 1952 housing,

FOR A SMALL family this plan 223-T offers a lot of livability in economical construction. Designed by Edward R. Tyler, 586 Macon Road, Hempstead, N. Y., the house covers only about 1,030 square feet. A full basement, nine closets and floor-to-ceiling built-in cabinets in the kitchen provide an abundance of storage space. Front foyer with guest closet and a rear service vestibule with access to basement, kitchen and two closets are features of this plan.

however, will not be centered merely in a better house. More homes for military personnel and defense workers is the number one program for 1952 for the NAHB.

As for housing demand in 1952, the builder estimated that demand would be just as great as in 1951, when over one million new units were built by the private home building industry. Actual production, however, will be much less.

Television Sets
Can Be Hazardous

YOUR TELEVISION set was manufactured with safety in mind, but there are a few rules you should follow to prevent it from becoming a fire hazard.

Harry J. Callan, Ohio State Fire Marshal, lists a few things you should know about your television set in order to avoid a fire or shock.

1. Don't try to repair your television set; it is too complex for amateur tinkering and you could get a severe shock. Call in a competent repairman.

2. Be careful not to cover up the ventilation holes which the manufacturer provided in your television set, or place the set on a table too small for the legs to provide the necessary air space underneath. Do not install your set in a tight little cubicle unless it was especially manufactured for such installation. These precautions are important because television sets generate considerable heat and this heat accumulates dangerously if ventilation is cut off.

3. Have an approved lightning arrester installed. The aerial may increase the danger of lightning striking your home.

4. Do not place the set where sunlight can fall on the magnifying lens.

5. Check to see if the aerial is properly grounded.

6. When buying your television set, be sure it has been inspected and approved by a nationally known testing laboratory.

Your television set affords you and your family untold hours of amusement and education, so be sure it does not constitute a hazard.

Home Buyers'
Complaints
Flood Congress

A CONGRESSIONAL committee investigating the nation's housing problems is beginning to wonder whether anybody is satisfied with his living quarters.

The inquiry got under way less than a week ago, but the House Banking Subcommittee headed by Rep. Rains (D-Ala.) is getting letters from all over the United States setting forth in detail exactly what is wrong with the writers' new houses.

The complaints go from basement to tidgipole and wall to wall.

"Sub-standard housing?" a Rahway, N. J. veteran wrote Rains bitterly. "As I write this I can hear the water gurgling down the drain in my cellar as it seeps through the foundations. The gypsum-board siding and the plywood roof are lined with ice on the inside of the house."

"In the development in which I live, we have 56 flooded cellars out of a possible 90. Our houses are in wretched shape after one year."

Rains' committee is looking into the inspection practices of the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration, which have guaranteed the mortgages on some 18 million dwellings.

The committee also proposes to see if the minimum construction specifications possibly aren't a little too minimal, and whether adequate home financing is available in all sections.

From the testimony of congressmen this week, and from the heavy inflow of letters from house buyers, the committee is convinced a thorough investigation is warranted. The first of a series of field trips starts next week, with hearings at Newark, N. J., Monday, Hackensack, N. J., Tuesday and Bayshore, Long Island, Wednesday.

While the committee obviously will be unable to investigate each individual complaint, it is getting plenty of leads through the mail.

A man in Louisville, Ky., complained that the floor in the liv-

Mineral Granules
Toughen Roofs

MOST home-owners don't realize it, but little bits of stone, nature's most wear-resistant material, usually are a home's first line of defense against attacking weather.

The roof of a house is the part that takes the greatest beating from rain, snow, sleet, hail, the heat of the sun, and the force of the wind. More houses in the United States are protected by asphalt roofing than by any other material. And asphalt shingles are surfaced with mineral granules, which are small pieces of rock.

Mineral granules are obtained from natural slate, quartz, trap-rock and slag. There are four reasons they are incorporated into asphalt shingles.

1. The granules can be colored by ceramic firing. This is the way asphalt shingles are made in their full range of solid and blended hues.

2. They increase the fire-resistance of the roofing.

3. They provide an excellent wearing and weathering surface.

4. Because the granules are opaque, they protect the asphalt from the impact of the sun's rays.

Three Building Permits
Issued During Week

Three building permits covering construction totalling $37,150 were issued by Mayor Harry M. Vincent during the past week.

The major undertaking, to cost an estimated $35,000, is the factory and office addition at the C. B. Hunt & Son, Inc., plant at 1900 E. State St. The permit was issued to Lester Kille.

Harry J. Pelton was issued a permit for remodeling at the Fisher's News Agency store at 474 E. State St. at a cost of $1,000. Jack Sarbin will have general repairs made to his property at 159 S. Ellsworth Ave. The cost will be approximately $1,150.

ing room of his year-old home is so shaky that the lamps on the tables jiggle when anybody walks across the room.

A Maryland veteran listed 20 or 30 separate shortcomings of his newly purchased residence, and wrote:

"It is not easy, Sir, to recite this tale of my gullibility. It is no consolation to know that there are many others who have been similarly duped. I hope your committee can do something to prevent other potential buyers from falling in the same trap."

Drexler Post Hears Willis Hall

Speaker Stresses Support Of Military

COLUMBIANA—Willis Hall of East Liverpool, representative of the Department of Ohio to the national legislative committee of the V.F.W., emphasized the importance of support for universal military training in his address at a banquet in the quarters of York Drexler Post, on East Friend St., Friday evening. Mrs. Hall deplored the inadequate military situation of the United States at the outbreak of the last two wars, which added greatly to the sacrifice of lives and treasure. He urged support of representatives in Congress who favor measures of preparedness, as its opponents are much more active in their opposition. Seventy-three were present for the banquet, which was held to promote an interest in the club of Dads of Veterans of Foreign Wars, those present including guests eligible for membership. Howard Donbar presided. The meal was served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of Drexler Post.

Drexler Post obligated seven new members at a recent initiation and now has a membership of near 150.

FOUR TOWNSHIPS, Fairfield, Elkrum, Middleton and Unity, are tributary to one of the four meetings in Columbiana county sponsored by the County Home Demonstration Council, which will be held in the East Fairfield Methodist Church at 8 p.m. Wednesday. Dr. Mervin G. Smith, agricultural extension economist of Ohio State University, will speak on "We and Our Neighbors," and Floyd Sidwell of Middleton will speak on what the council is doing. Music will be included in the program. The public is invited.

Dr. J. Fred Essig, assistant superintendent of Youngstown schools, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club this evening. William Ann is program chairman. Club members are congratulating Chuck Pignolet and his committee for their work in connection with the Boy Scout banquet a week ago.

Russell Barrow, immediate past president of the Columbiana club and lieutenant governor of the 15th division, made a courtesy visit to the Hubbard club in the adjoining 14th division last week and learned that the club

BACK IN SERVICE—Out of the mothball fleet at San Francisco and back in service is the U.S. S. Intrepid, 27,000-ton Essex-class aircraft carrier. During the war, the big flattop lived up to its name. Most-frequently hit carrier in the navy, it was battered into flames by Jap aerial attack four times and four times, its damage repaired, it returned to battle. In 15 months of combat action, Intrepid's guns and planes sank 89 enemy ships and 660 enemy aircraft. After recommissioning at San Francisco, she goes to Newport News, Va., to have her flight deck modernized to handle new, heavy planes.

had a January attendance record of 96.69 per cent.

Columbiana Kiwanians are already making reservations for the international convention in Seattle, June 15-19.

The speaker who had been listed by Olin Mowen, program chairman for the Rotary Club this evening, had to cancel his engagement, necessitating a change in the plans.

Columbiana Senior Hi-Y will play North Lima here tonight.

The engagement is announced of Miss Ethel Ritchie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Ritchie, 123 West Friend St., and Ronald Perkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Perkins, 220 East Friend St. No date has been set for the wedding. The prospective groom is in the U.S. Navy and is stationed in the Bermudas.

The Union Bank, Citizens' Bank and Home Savings & Loan Co., will be closed tomorrow because of Lincoln's birthday.

Election of officers is scheduled for the February meeting of the Columbiana Music Study Club at the home of Mrs. Paul McNab, 328 West Park Ave., at 8 p.m. Wednesday. "American Orchestras" will be the topic of the evening. Miss Ruth Warrick will be associate hostess.

Panora Lodge of Odd fellows will give a public card party at 8:30 p.m. Thursday.

Columbiana Chapter, O.E.S., will meet tomorrow evening.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Vanda Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Ward, 384 Fairfield Ave., and Howard Balogh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Balogh of Struthers. Miss Ward is employed in the Isaly dairy store here, and Mr. Balogh is in the employ of the General Motors Co. in Youngstown and attends Youngstown College night school. No date for the wedding is announced.

Editor To Speak At Kiwanis Club Meeting

Francis Wise, city editor of the Youngstown Vindicator and former managing editor of the Salem News, will be program speaker at the Kiwanis Club meeting, at noon Thursday in the Memorial Building.

Wise was Kiwanis secretary for many years and was lieutenant governor of the division. Warren Brown is program chairman for the meeting.

Reasons Given For Small-Plane Crashes

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) expert blames over-confidence of pilots and their lack of instrument training for many bad-weather crashes of small, private planes.

"The trouble seems to lie mainly with the experienced pilot who is not instrument rated, yet feels that he can... fly for short periods on instrument," says Edward B. Heyl, chief of CAB's Statistical Analysis Section.

Heyl submitted a report that 134 (about 27 per cent) of the 495 fatal accidents involving small, "non-air carrier" airplanes during 1950 occurred in weather with ceiling and visibility below the minimums required for operation under the government's visual flight rules.

He said pilots attempting to maintain visual contact flights into such weather, rather than resort to instruments, caused about 18 per cent of the fatal accidents, compared with 13 per cent in 1948.

Bryce Kendall To Speak On India To Rotarians

Bryce Kendall, who spent three years in India, will tell of that country at the Rotary Club meeting noon Tuesday in the Memorial Building. Frank Huber is program chairman.

Members of other Salem service clubs have been invited to the Rotary meeting noon, Feb. 19 in the Memorial Building to hear Charles P. Taft, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

Substitutes Found For Blood Plasma

BALTIMORE (AP)—Oxypolygelatin, a blood plasma substitute which could be used today in the event of an atomic bombing, is getting a thorough check of its effectiveness in experiments at the University of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Harold G. Barker, instructor in surgery at Pennsylvania, described the experiments yesterday to the Society of University Surgeons. The society is meeting at Johns-Hopkins Hospital to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the birth of Dr. William Halsted, first professor of surgery at the Hopkins Medical School.

One of the principal uses of plasma substitutes, Dr. Barker said, would be their stockpiling for use in a widespread disaster, such as an atomic bombing of a city.

In such a case, military authorities have emphasized, there would not be enough human plasma available in any one locality to administer to the possible thousands injured.

Dr. Barker said oxypolygelatin is cheaper to produce than human plasma, and while many further experiments are planned, the substitute could be used now to do the job of plasma if enough were available.

Oxypolygelatin is the only plasma substitute the Penn group has been working with so far.

"There are several substitutes now available which are nearly equal in effectiveness," Dr. Barker added, "and we are attempting to improve the techniques in determining which is the best."

Sons, Read This To Your Parents

"ON MY HONOR I will do my best—
"To do my duty to God and my country, and to obey the Scout law.
"To help other people at all times.
"To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight."

That is the Boy Scout oath which, since 1910, has influenced the lives of 19 million American boys and men. Stop and re-read it and you'll readily understand that if your boy isn't in "outing" he's being cheated in some of the basic values which will help prepare him for manhood. Scouting has more to offer than camping and craftsmanship.

Since this is National Boy Scout Week,
let's read on. The following is the dedication pledge given every Explorer Scout—14 years or older. (It could well be adopted by every American):

"I will live the Scout Oath and Law. I will be familiar with the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and the Bill of Rights of the United States of America. I will respect and obey the law in order to have security and freedom.

"I will share the responsibility of my home, school, church, neighborhood and community; and when legally of age, I will register and vote in all elections. I will deal fairly and kindly with my fellow citizens of whatever race or creed, in the spirit of the Scout Law and America's tradition of equality of opportunity.

"I will work to preserve our American heritage of liberty and responsibility. I acknowledge that the privileges we enjoy were won by the hard work, and sacrifice, faith and clear thinking of our forefathers. I will do all in my power to pass on a better America to the next generation."

interest in their boys through scouting. The adult Scout leaders who are doing a commendable job in boy leadership certainly need your support—and a lending hand.

Jobs For NATO

By PETER EDSON

3 Tasks Lie Ahead of Lisbon Conference

WASHINGTON
THREE big jobs confront the North Atlantic Treaty Organization conference scheduled for Lisbon, Portugal, late this month.

The first one is to approve creation of the united, European army. It is now referred to in diplomatic alphabetical shorthand as EDF—the European Defense Force.

The second is to approve a unified budget to support the EDF,
each country contributing its fair share.

Third job is to streamline the cumbersome NATO international bureaucracy.

This will include creation of a 14-man governing council and a single, top civilian Director General with a permanent headquarters.

If by some international political hocus pocus the European army can't be approved at the Lisbon conference, there is believed to be only one alternative.

It is to take Germany into the North Atlantic Treaty organization as the 15th fully participating member.

German participation in the European Defense Force has at times seemed all set over the past six months.

Then some monkey wrench is thrown into the proceedings. Like the recent French revival of the Saar dispute. And the whole program has been thrown for a loss.

AMERICAN officials are now
convinced that Germany can no longer be considered as a mere contributor of bodies, rifles and military production for European defense.

Germany's initial defense budget is in the nature of four billion dollars—largest in Western Europe and only three-quarters
of a billion less than Britain's.

Germany must be taken into full partnership, one way or another. This will require approval at Lisbon, then ratification by each member government, separately.

This may take six months, since parliamentary machinery grinds
so slowly.

Getting agreement on a NATO
military budget at Lisbon may be equally difficult. Here the recommendations of TCC—the Temporary Council Committee will play an important part in getting all the NATO countries
to increase their military expenditures.

The so-called "three wise men"
of this committee are W. Averell Harriman for the U. S., Sir Edwin Plowden for Britain, Jean Monnet for France.

They will meet in Paris ahead
of the Lisbon conference to try to iron out final wrinkles.

Discussion of the NATO military budget is now all fogged up
by a phony censorship.

American, Canadian, British
and French budgets are all a matter of record. But some of the smaller countries are extremely sensitive about having this information disclosed.

BUDGET figures are of course
subject to change. The U. S. defense budget of 52 billion dollars
plus ten billion for foreign military assistance may be cut by Congress.

If these cuts are too big, the effect will be felt abroad. Europeans will then be able to say,
"You want us to do more, but we aren't able. And you aren't able to do what you'd like to do either."

Any idea for a long-range,
three or four-year military budget for NATO has been dropped.
The totals are too staggering.

All pressure is to be put on doing as much as possible each year,
with an annual review of requirements and capabilities
thereafter.

With some 500 ministers, admirals, experts and advisers in attendance at the Rome NATO meeting, reorganization became essential.

Lisbon will be a little better.
Each country has been limited to a delegation of 20, for all 14
countries.

Creation of a 14-member executive Council will provide NATO with a compact board of directors to run the business between the larger conferences.

Maj. Gen. William H. Draper
has been designated as U. S. representative on this council.

Its permanent headquarters
will probably be in Paris. The British want it established in London.

But the desire to keep the Council close to General Eisenhower's supreme military headquarters will probably rule in favor of Paris.

Another big job will be to select a single, civilian Director General for the Council and NATO. Present thought is that he should not be an American,
but a representative of a smaller power.

Likely nominees are Halvard
Lange of Norway, Paul Henri Spaak of Belgium, and Dirk U.
Stikker of The Netherlands.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

It's True! Women Stronger Sex

IF you want to live long, you should be born a girl, and not a boy. Contrary to fiction and the views of some men, women are not the frail vessels which perhaps men would like to think they are.

Indeed, except for muscular development and a periodic handicap supplied by nature, women
are really the rugged sex.

Women are more resistant to the fatal effects of most diseases than men
are with the exception of conditions peculiar to the female sex.

Girls and women appear to be much more robust than boys and
men. Most of them accept illness more philosophically and possibly
this helps them to recover.

It is easy to understand that men are more exposed to accidents—at least this used to be the case before the days when so many women worked in industry.

It is not so easy to see why men
should be so much more susceptible to certain types of heart diseases such as coronary thrombosis and other disorders involving the blood vessels.

Women can withstand cold better than men. The reason for this is at least partly because they have a thin layer of fat under the skin which helps to insulate them.

When in swimming and at formal parties, the difference is usually obvious.

Almost every doctor will agree that on the average, women stand pain better than men do. This may not have any relation to their resistance to disease, and is probably just a sign of their adaptability to the role of child-bearing.

For every one hundred girls
born into this world, there are about one hundred and three boys. From time of birth on, however, boys die off at a more rapid rate than their sisters.

By the time the later years of life are reached, from seventy-five onward, there are more than twice as many women living as there are men.

The change in the proportion between the sexes is brought about gradually because more men than women die at almost every age. With an ageing population and periodic wars taking off even more men, the time is not far distant, if it has not already arrived, when women will outnumber men throughout most of the country.

Even now they are said to own more property. This will be a new experience for a country which always before in its history has had an excess of men.

So They Say

It is the Yalu River that has forced... an air war that is predominantly tactical. Less than 3 per cent of the entire Far East
Air Forces' effort (was) required to paralyze North Korean industry by neutralizing 18 strategic targets.—Maj. Gen. Roger Ramey, U. S. A. F.

We (Republicans) have our problems because we have extremists of the right—those who would freeze our nation into the status quo with whatever inequalities that go with it.
—Gov. Earl Warren.

SIDE GLANCES

Yep! There's One Thing They Both Can Agree On!

The Secret Of National Progress

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON

SOCIAL OR economic progress
isn't something that just happens. If it were, China and India and most of the remainder of the old war wouldn't be knee-deep in poverty. America's unmatched progress has been due to the freedoms and incentives
in the American system and to our American business leadership with its great capacity for constantly expanding the production of new wealth.

The nature of manpower has not changed in 6,000 years; men
are about as strong physically as they ever were and the size and capacity of the human brain is unchanging. But the ingenuity and enterprise of free American business men have developed a machine-power that has multiplied man's productive worth to an amazing degree. And this has brought about our great social progress; it has given American workmen a living standard three times as high as their counterparts living under any other system in the world.

THE WAGNER ACT and Taft-Hartley laws, the strikes, for higher wages by industrial employees and the "social reform"
legislation of the past half-century would not have advanced this nation's economic or social welfare on the whole—or the individual citizen's permanent economic outlook—had not American business throughout those 50 years been constantly devising new machine tools and techniques and expanding its production facilities to create new wealth.

Wealth, said Henry George, the social philosopher, is "any material thing made by man, from land, that has an exchange value." The government cannot make new wealth by spending
tax income or redistributing it
in any particular way, or by issuing new irredeemable currency, or by spending borrowed money through the use of paper
I.O.U.'s. But a man can take a handful of clay from his back yard or from a creek bank, shape

it into a bowl and harden it in an earthen oven, and it becomes new wealth—to be sold or exchanged for something he wants. The clay itself is not wealth as it lies in the earth. It is merely a resource.
It becomes wealth only after man
has worked it into something useful, something somebody wants.

IN MANY REGIONS of the old world bowls for food are still made by men shaping clay with their hands and baking it in earthen ovens—and because of such primitive production, the living standard of the population
has improved very little in the last 100 years. In America, our incentives and freedoms have inspired many clay potters to become dinnerware manufacturers,
blacksmiths to become automobile builders, and men with one-
horse plows to become mechanized
commercial farmers.

Machine tools, mass production
techniques and invested capital
have enabled business men and industrialists to increase the productive capacity—the wealth-making power—of American
workmen to an amazing degree.
And this is the key to American prosperity. There is really no secret about it. We've got the world's greatest prosperity because our industries have developed machine-power and placed it in the hands of our quick-to-learn American workmen, and thus the expansion of wealth-

making production has been constant.

THESE REASONS for America's wonderful industrial progress should be clearly understood by every citizen, especially young Americans in schools and colleges, and likewise industrial employees who get so much propaganda peddled their way which seeks to undermine their faith in our American business system.

In 1850, manufacturing, as we know it today was barely getting started: Man himself did 20 per cent of the work being done, and imals did 50 per cent, and machine power accounted for only 30 per cent. By 1900 man was doing only 15 per cent, animals 30 per cent, and machines were doing 55 per cent. And by 1950,
man was doing only 6 per cent,
and machines were doing the rest—94 per cent.

The output per worker per hour in 1850 was only 27 cents
(in today's buying power). By 1950, thanks to industry's constant development of better machine tools and production techniques, the output per worker
had increased five times that amount, to $1.40. And the American living standard, measured by per capita buying power had improved exactly 500 per cent.
Thus we can see clearly how important it is—to all of us—to keep intact the basic principles of
our American business system—
freedom and the profit incentives
that have sparked our great industrial progress.

When she insisted again that women were
capable of filling any role in the hotel field,
I asked:
"Well how about the job of house detective?"

"I'm glad you brought that up," she said,
"Because right now I'm considering hiring a lady detective. I think she'd be more diplomatic."

Looking Backward
From The News Files

FORTY YEARS AGO—About 18 young people of Salem went to Lisbon Friday on a sled load. They spent the evening at the home of Miss Mackintosh playing games and music.

Mrs. Mark Hannay of W. Fourth St. entertained eight couples at cards Friday evening, followed by an oyster supper.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO—Mrs. Clifford Segesman entertained a group of friends and relatives Wednesday at her home, Park St., in honor of Mrs. Howard Jones of Youngstown, who was married recently.

Mrs. Dwight McNab was hostess to her club associates Wednesday at her home, Ellsworth Ave. Bridge was introduced and prizes awarded to Mrs. Harry Haymes and Miss Helen Smith.

TEN YEARS AGO—Mr. and Mrs. D. M.
Huffman entertained 14 boys of the first grade
of McKinley School at their home on E. State St. Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Holroyd of N. Ellsworth Ave. have received the first word from their son, Pvt. Ralph W. Holroyd, who is stationed near Honolulu, Hawaii.

FIVE YEARS AGO—Miss Mary Long-
anecker and Miss Miriam Clark, student nurses at the Huron Road Hospital, Cleveland, spent the weekend with their parents in Columbiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ashley, Canfield Rd., returned Sunday from a trip to Florida.

The world is growing worse, according to reformers. In other words, there are more and more reformers.

What bottles do they keep them in the museums of the medical schools? Sometime there is going to be an expedition of gazelle-like Twills to view them,
so the rising generation will know what it would have looked like if it had not ended up in the blind
alley where all the billions of aberrationists live—the too fat,
the too lean, the too tall and
the too small.

Where are these average people
anyway — the freaks who would be a composite of all the thickies and thinies who have been measured down through the years?

But evidently that is going to take a little more time. The sticklers are not improving. To hear them blow the little plugs
out of the holes in their heads
when a human being lacks a few pounds of weighing what the average person of the same age
and height weighs, they are the helpless victims of their own ignorance.

Just because we do not bring
a tear into the heart specialist's eyes when he estimates the probability of our going kerplunk
from too much weight does not mean there is anything organi-cally wrong with us.

It means that what we eat
does not turn instantly to fat,
much of which would settle in our heads and make them sufficiently oleaginous to slip up on
as rudimentary a matter as the fallacy of averages.

Statistical sticklers first began to send home terse little notes
when the junior Twills were still fooling with sandpiles. The notes said the kids were too light.
Too light for what, gentlemen?

Their papa and mama are both
on the light side—and no quips,
please, about mental light-weights to boot. But this has not to whom they all gave heed,

from the least to the greatest,
saying, This man is the great power of God.—Acts 8:10.

New Horsepower—new Brake Power—and new Power Steering blossom on Buick's ROADMASTER for 1952

MAYBE you've heard—horsepower has hit a new high on the ROADMASTER. Brake power has done the same.

But today, we'd like to concentrate on the third member of the power trio—Buick's own version of Power Steering, available on ROADMASTERS at a moderate extra cost.

What is this Power Steering like? It's something like a helping hand, something like a "hydraulic slave"—that relieves you of all steering strain, but lets you keep command.

What we mean is this: Power Steering is handled by a special hydraulic unit—and engineers can design this unit to take over any amount of steering effort—even to a point where the wheel seems to float in your hand.

But in that case, you'd surrender all control to that hydraulic unit—get no steering "feel" from the wheel.

Now suppose you're telling two agile tons of automobile what to do in traffic. We think you'd like to have it know that you're in command.

And—out on the straightaway—we believe that a part of the joy you get from owning a Buick is the sensation of having something alive and eagerly willing beneath your hands.

So we're glad to announce that Buick engineers didn't spoil this thrill. They've kept the fun of driving, and simply eased the effort.

When you're rolling along smooth and straight, it takes almost no effort to keep any Buick on course. It almost steers itself, as every Buick owner knows.

But—when you want to get away from a curb

—back into a parking spot—make a turn—Buick's Power Steering comes into action, saves four-fifths of the effort required with ordinary steering. Power Steering does the extra work.

And—in case you wonder what happens if Power Steering gets out of kilter, the answer is nothing. Your Buick steers just as it always has.

That's why we've been saying, "This is Power Steering as it ought to be."

Come in. Try it out. We think you'll agree.

Miss Lois Arlene Ritchey Wed To Edward H. Butcher

GIVEN IN MARRIAGE by her father, Miss Lois Arlene Ritchey became the bride of Edward Hobart Butcher in a 2 o'clock ceremony Saturday afternoon in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church.

Rev. Richard Swogger, pastor, officiated when vows and rings were exchanged by the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ritchey of the Garfield Rd. and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Butcher of the Leetonia Rd.

Members of the immediate families witnessed the nuptials performed at the altar in a setting of white snapdragons and white carnations lighted by white tapers in candelabra.

Mr. Taylor Played
Homer Taylor played the nuptial music and heralded the wedding party with the traditional marches.

Attractive in a two piece dress-suit of tissue faille, the bride chose complementing accessories of white and red. She carried white gardenias on an Eastern Star Bible belonging to the groom's mother. White satin ribbon was used as streamers and schizanthus were caught up in lover's knots.

Mrs. Paul Heim was matron of honor. Brown and brown and white check were the colors of her suit. Her accessories were green and her corsage was fashioned of talisman roses.

J. L. Gallatin Best Man
J. L. Gallatin served Mr. Butcher as best man. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Ritchey appeared in a navy costume with beige accessories and a pink carnation corsage. Mrs. Butcher wore a suit of honey-color houndstooth check with navy, and a corsage of white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Ritchey entertained at a reception following the wedding in their home. A beautifully decorated cake was the center of attraction at the refreshment table presided over by Mrs. Paul Miller of Alliance and Mrs. Alfred Stubbs of Lisbon, aunts of the bride.

Yellow and White Theme
Yellow and white was the appointment theme carried out in flowers, lace cloth and cake on the table lighted by white tapers in crystal. Guests were present from Salem, Lisbon and Alliance. Mrs. Alan H. Cleveland of Henderson, Ky., and Mrs. James F. Bailey of Buffalo, sisters of the groom, also were present.

For their brief honeymoon Mrs. Butcher traveled in her faille suit, and wore the gardenias from her wedding bouquet. The bride is a senior in Damascus High School and will graduate in May. Her husband graduated from Salem High School in the class of '51 and is now attending the Navy School of Music in Washington, D. C. He returned to Washington Sunday following a buffet supper arranged by his parents in their home.

Mrs. William Pritchard assisted Mrs. Butcher with the supper arrangements. The buffet table was covered with linen, lighted by white candles and the flower centerpiece was in pastel shades.

Janet Ann Ray Is Married To Charles Hedl

MISS JANET Ann Ray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ray, RD 1, Hanoverton, and Charles A. Hedl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hedl, 337 Columbia St., Leetonia, were united in marriage at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Rev. T. P. Laughner, the pastor, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Bouquets of yellow jonquills in the alter vases, together with lighted candles completed the altar decorations. White satin ribbon bows marked the family pews. Merle Reese, organist, presented a program of nuptial music preceding the ceremony. Mrs. Charles Stelts, was accompanist for the soloist, Miss Debra Smith.

Miss Dorothy Weyant was maid of honor and William P. Hedl, of Cleveland, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. James Rice, classmate of the bridegroom and Nick Penich, of Lisbon, seated the guests.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a powder blue suit with navy and white flowered hat. She completed her costume with white gloves and wore the bridegroom's gift a pearl and rhinestone necklace. She carried a white Bible with carnation and freesia markers.

Miss Weyant wore a gray suit with pink accessories and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ray wore a Navy blue dress with gray and white accessories with corsage of variegated carnations. Mrs. Hedl also wore a navy blue dress with matching accessories and corsage of variegated carnations.

A reception for 100 friends and relatives was held in the recreation room of the church. Mrs. Frank Hedl, of Chicago, aunt of the bridegroom, served the cake. Miss Phyllis Scott and Miss Margaret Laughlin assisted. Miss Helen Siefke had charge of the guest book.

Following an eastern wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Hedl will reside with the bridegroom's parents for the present.

Mrs. Hedl attended David Anderson High School at Lisbon. Mr. Hedl, a graduate of Leetonia High School, is employed at Melinger Lumber Co., Leetonia.

Out of town guests at the wedding were from Chicago, Ill., Chester, W. Va., Newcomerstown, Ohio, East Liverpool and Salem.

Quakers Shatter Scoring Record, Beat Louisville, 98-64

Break Mark Set Last Season, Bill Brelih Cages 26 Points

By SKIP GREENISEN

Romping to a 98-64 victory Saturday evening over the Louisville Leopards, the Salem Quakers broke Salem High School's single game scoring record in taking their seventh triumph of the season.

It was a hot night for the locals as they put together 39 goals and 20 fouls for the 98-point total and fired in 39.69 per cent of their attempts at the hoops.

The big scoring spurge for Coach John Cabas' cagers shattered the old scoring mark by 23 points. The Cabasmen of last year held the record with a 75-point total in games against Akron Central and Ravenna, both contests having been played here.

THE GAME, played on the local floor and witnessed by a small Saturday night crowd, opened up as though it were an ordinary tilt, Louisville hitting the hoops quickly while Salem made a slow debut.

Midway through the opening quarter the locals were seven points behind, 12-7, but a sudden change netted the Quakers 13 points in the final four minutes. Louisville caged only five markers in the latter four minutes and the Quakers held a first period advantage as Bill Brelih, Salem's most improved ball player, and George Alek dropped in two quick baskets just before the period ended, 18-17.

A short rest period separated the quarters and following the center jump Brelih cashed in for another two-pointer, giving Salem a 20-17 lead which they cherished throughout the remainder of the game.

BRELIIH'S BASKET was the start of a 31-point quarter and the first of five he was to get in the period. Wayne Harris, 6 foot 2 inch forward and high scorer for the Cabasmen, equaled the 6 foot 6 inch center's floor performance with five buckets of his own as each of six players managed to account for the highest quarter the Quakers have enjoyed this season.

Thirty shots were taken by the locals during the quarter and 14 of them meshed through the twine for a fine shooting average of 46.6. Meanwhile, the Leopards were having tough luck with their 19 shots, caging only five along with a trio of fouls and fell some 19 points behind the Quakers when the intermission arrived, 49-30.

COACH CABAS started the same five that came out at half-time and the count continued to grow in the Quakers favor. A minute apart, Ramsey Jones (43) and Herb Heyard (35) committed their fifth and last fouls midway through the period and were ejected from the game with the scoreboard reading, Salem 62, Louisville 39.

Substitutions started flowing in shortly afterwards from the Salem bench as Coach Cabas put all of his eleven players into action in the latter part of the third and entire fourth quarters. When the third stanza ended the Quakers were out front by 30 points, 77-47. The scoring record was broken in three quarters and the Salem cagers wanted to really shatter the mark by going over 100 but their 21 points for the fourth quarter fell just two points short. However, the locals took the victory going away and left the fans and Louisville very much surprised.

Brelih was the big standout for the Quakers as he competed with Jones and Heyard, 6'3" and 6'5", respectively. Jones was a huge, well-built fellow and is just a junior. He was having a bad time under the boards, using his five personals well instead of his ability.

Brelih managed to get numerous tip-ins for the locals and scored fairly easy, despite Louisville's 2-3 zone to keep him from under the hoop. The big boy was rebounding on both boards and was taking his position well ahead of Louisville rebounders.

PLAYING THREE quarters, Brelih netted 10 goals in 19 attempts and cashed in for six of eight free throw shots. Alek and Harris caged 17 and 16 points, respectively. The latter had himself a fine second quarter and Alek managed to tally four, six and seven in his three quarters of play.

Art Lynch (53) tallied 23 points for the losing Leopards while Don McGinnis scored 15 markers.

Oddly enough, the Quakers attempted 98 shots while scoring their 98-point total for a high 39.69 per cent. The Leopards also had a good night from the field as they shot a total of 64 times and caged 25 goals for an even 39 per cent.

Salem showed improvement at the foul line as they caged 20 of 31 attempts but the Leopards were off a slight bit, getting 14 for 26.

THREE MORE GAMES are left on the Salem schedule, Sebring, Niles and Youngstown Ursuline. The Quakers will face the Trojans here Friday night in their last home game of the season and then trek to Niles Saturday evening to face the McKinley Red Dragons. The following Thursday the Quakers again be on the road against the Irish of Ursuline, a team which will be out to revenge their only

WALT BRIAN, Youngstown College cager and former Salem High School athlete, will close his college career in June after being successful with the Penquins in the past two years.

The rebounding department finds Brian as top man for the YoCo basketballers while he ranks third in the scoring column behind Mike Mugula, who recently broke a Penquin scoring record, and Sam Jankovich. Brian has been instrumental in helping Mugula break the record with expert play making and fine passing.

Blue Devils Beat Springfield, 53-32

After leading by a mere three points at halftime, 16-13, this Lisbon Blue Devils rallied for 21 markers in the third period to romp to a 53-32 win over Springfield Township Saturday night in the Lisbon gym.

Dean Nicholson and Roger Boring scored 15 and 13 points, respectively, for the Jack Mills-coached five. The pair sparked the Blue Devil attack throughout most of the game.

The two teams were deadlocked at the end of the first quarter and the Millsmen held the slight lead at halftime but the game was Lisbon's as the squads went into the final stanza.

The Lisbon Reserves also tallied a victory, 37-19.

Reserves Tally 7th Win, Drop Louisville

The Salem Reserves won their seventh game against eight losses Saturday evening when they topped Louisville, 49-35, in the preliminary tilt to the Quakers record-breaking contest.

Starting slow like their elders, the Reserves held a one-point lead at the end of the initial period, 11-10. Fourteen points in the second quarter totaled the Quakers 25 as they limited their foes to just seven markers to lead by eight markers at halftime.

The lead jumped to ten points at the end of the third quarter, 36-26, and the locals won the game easily in the last period with thirteen markers, 49-34.

Bob Kupka, promising junior cager, sparked the younger Quakers to the victory with five baskets and seven free throws. He was successful in dropping in his seven fouls in eleven attempts from the free throw lane.

Dan McGinnis chalked up 12 markers to lead the Leopards.

Berardino May Try Comeback With Tribe

CLEVELAND (AP)— Infielder John Berardino is returning to the Cleveland Indians for a tryout in spring training, General Manager Hank Greenberg announced today.

The 35-year-old Berardino will not be under contract, but he's confidence he can stage a comeback and stick with the club the rest of the season.

"This is another case of everything to gain and nothing to lose," observed Greenberg. Hank said Manager Al Lopez believes Berardino might prove useful.

Berardino was released from his coaching job with the St. Louis Browns so that team's new manager, Roger Hornsby, could name his own assistants. He began last season as the Browns' third baseman. His average was .227 in 39 games.

The Tribe also announced the signing of utility outfielder Paul Lehner and Rookie Southpaw Bob Kerrigan, the 22nd and 23rd Indians to ink contracts. Thirteen players are yet to commit themselves.

Bratton, Cardell Set For Fight Feb. 20

CHICAGO (UP)— The International Boxing Club has announced that former welterweight champion Johnny Bratton will meet Vic Cardell, Hartford, Conn., in the 10-round main event at the Chicago Stadium Feb. 20.

The match, announced yesterday, substitutes for a 10-round heavyweight bout between Luther Rawlings of Chicago and Light-champion Jimmy Carter. The original fight was cancelled because of an injury to Carter.

Giants' Larry Jansen Signs 1952 Contract

NEW YORK (UP)— Pitcher Larry Jansen, the New York Giants' control specialist who won 23 games last season, was under contract for the 1952 season today after accepting a raise that placed him in the $35,000 bracket.

The sturdy right-hander from Forest Grove, Ore., struck out 145 batters and issued only 56 bases on balls in 279 innings while compiling a 23-11 record in 1951.

Jansen, with the Giants since 1947, turned in an earned run mark of 3.03 last year which ranked him fourth best in that department in the National League.

Twenty years ago — Karl Schafer of Austria won the men's figure skating championship at the winter Olympic Games at Lake Placid, N. Y.

Middlecoff Cops El Paso Tourney

SAN ANTONIO (AP)— Golf's tour rolled on to San Antonio for the Texas Open today minus Cary Middlecoff, the Memphis, Tenn., ace who leads the year's money-winners as a result of his victory in the $10,000 El Paso Open yesterday.

Middlecoff shot sub-par golf for all four rounds to take the $2,000 first prize in the El Paso tournament. His 269 gave him a three-stroke margin over Al Besslink, the big blond from Chicago. Middlecoff wound up with a two-under-par 69 over the rainswept, 6,315-yard El Paso Country Club brought his money winnings for course yesterday.

Middlecoff's victory here the year to $4,320 and put him ahead of Lloyd Mangrum, who has taken down $3,196.07.

Church-State Issue

Religion's Place In Affairs Of Government Debated Anew

(First Of A Series)

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States, which pioneered the idea of separation of church and state, today is grappling with it anew.

A wave of controversy has risen about the concept. "It has become a very important issue in our country," said Dr. Allen Nevins, a leading American historian. "And it is a fundamental one."

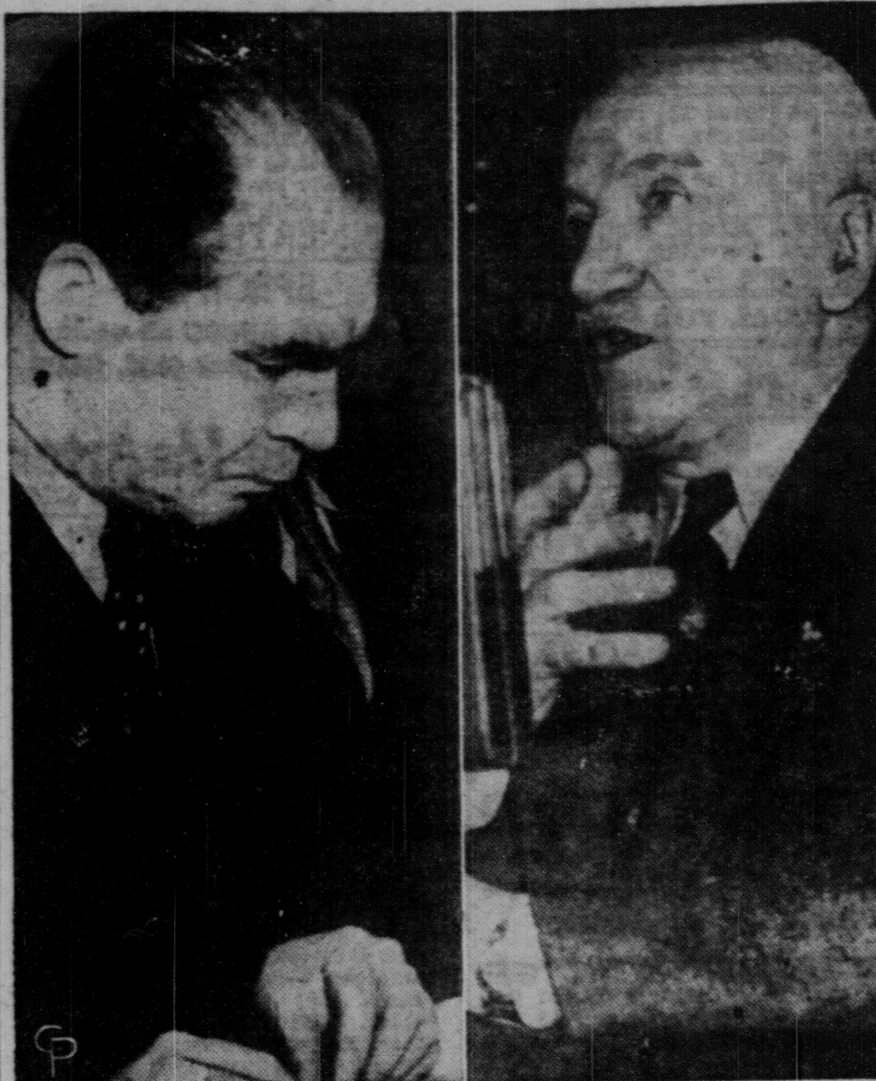

Two opposing questions have been underscored: Is an effort being made to modify the historic division between church and state? Has the divorce between the two institutions been carried to an extreme, sapping the nation of moral strength? Numerous recent events have rekindled the problem. Among them:

1. PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S move to send an ambassador to the Vatican.
2. The question of using public funds for parochial pupils—a matter expected to be raised anew in this Congress in connection with proposed federal aid to education.
3. A series of court cases, several of them carried to the United States Supreme Court, involving the state and religion.
4. The spread of "released time" religious instruction and kindred religious activity in connection with the public schools.
5. Rallies, lecture tours and a flood of literature on the subject throughout the country, usually under sponsorship of church bodies.
6. Formation of "religious liberty" committees and such groups as "Protestants and other Americans united for the separation of church and state," aimed at curbing what they consider "a drift toward church-state union."

ALL THIS CAN be traced back 160 years. Thomas Jefferson, voicing approval of passage of the first constitution amendment in 1791, said the nation has thus built "a wall of separation between church and state."

"Religion is the alpha and omega of our moral law," he said,

IS SOVIET AMBASSADOR NKVD LEADER? Former Polish Col. George Grobicki (right) tells a House committee in Washington that the Soviet ambassador to Great Britain has the same name and looks like the Russian secret police commander of the infamous Kozel'sk prison camp. Grobicki said he identified a picture of Ambassador Zarubin as a likeness of Brig. Gen. Zarubin of the NKVD (secret police). Soviet Ambassador Zarubin is shown at left.

but added "it lies solely between man and his god."

However, neither federal nor state government has ever been entirely devoid of religious content. The question now being posed is: How much is wise, or fair, or in the interest of the general welfare?

"It is a vital matter for the United States in the present time," said Dr. Sidney Hook, New York University philosopher and winner of a national Four-Freedoms award.

"If further attempts are made to breach the well separating church and state, it will divide our people at a time when we should be unified in facing the most urgent issue of totalitarian Communism."

The problem has stirred discord among religious and other groups, although not always on clear-cut lines.

MAJOR RELIGIOUS leaders have deplored acrimony in the debate. Here are comments by some leaders, indicating the differences:

Episcopal Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill, president of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., said many Protestants see "evidence of a movement to break down our traditional practice." He added:

"Some people frankly don't believe in it... One of the great difficulties of our generation is to avoid secularization of American life, without involving relations between church and state."

"But we can't let the fear of one danger drive us headlong into another—which is state control of religion."

Father John Courtney Murray, Yale professor and a leading Catholic philosopher, said that church and state have been driven "farther and farther apart" in America.

"WHILE THE secularization of our culture goes on, the church is pushed more and more off to one side," he said; "in the end, it can mean pushing religion completely out of public life, and lead to some kind of atheistic quasi-totalitarianism."

Although it is "all important that the distinct jurisdiction" of church and state "be respected," he said, "there are areas of common interest" to both.

Dr. Mordecai Kaplan, author, philosopher and Jewish leader, said there is "a general trend toward breaking down the separation between organized religion and the state."

This separation, he said, has proved historically to be "American."

Liverpool Township Tops Yule Seal Goal

Liverpool Township is the fifth township to meet its quota in the Christmas Health Seal campaign sponsored by the Columbiana County Public Health League.

The $7,500 goal was passed Friday with C. M. Crambers, chairman, reporting collections of $7,504.

Miss Lillian Schroeder, the league's executive secretary, said county returns now total $27,467. That exceeds last year's total—$27,453—but is still $533 short of the $28,000 goal.

Other goal-winning townships are Center, Fairfield, Unity and Hanover.

Ohio Ranks Fifth In Honey Production

Ohio's 1951 honey crop of 11½ million pounds placed fifth in national production, according to agricultural extension economists of Ohio State University.

Leaders, with production in million pounds—California, 28; Minnesota, 24; Florida, 18, and Wisconsin, 15.

The nation's crop was up 11 per cent over 1950. Ohio gained eight per cent.

Consolidated Edison
Active In Stocks

NEW YORK (UP)—Stocks opened irregular in moderate trading today.

An active feature—Consolidated Edison—opened on 5,000 shares at the previous close.

Net changes generally held to fractions. Gains were slightly in the majority.

Several leaders balanced off supply and demand and opened at the previous close. This group included Chrysler, Republic Steel, Goodrich, Loews, Cities Service, Standard Oil N. J., General Motors, U. S. Steel, and Pan American World Airways.

MOON ECLIPSE SEEN
NEW YORK (AP)—The only partial eclipse of the moon during 1952 in the United States was visible in some parts of the country last night.

The Hayden Planetarium said nine per cent of the moon was in the earth's shadow. When the moon rose at 5:12 p.m. (EST), the partial eclipse already was underway and visible to the naked eye in New York. It ended here at 10:12 p.m.

ORDER MINE CLOSED
COLUMBUS (UP)—State Mine Chief Harry J. Dusz said today that he had ordered a deputy inspector to close parts of the Barton Mining Co. coal mine in Belmont County until "improper ventilation" is corrected.

Oysters nine inches long were common along the American coast in early colonial days.

BLOCK BUSTING. This block of homes on Queen Anne Hill in Seattle, Wash., is becoming a jumbled mass of wreckage as continual slides move the earth under and around the houses. Front yards and street have fallen four feet since the first of the year, exposing sewer pipe (foreground). Two of the homes are still occupied although City Engineering Department expects the structures to be completely demolished eventually.

Obituary

Mrs. Fred Stewart

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Frances Brown Stewart of Pittsburgh who died in Dayton Hospital yesterday morning shortly after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage on a train while enroute to visit her sister in Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. Stewart was born in Salem and lived here until through high school. Her husband, Fred, preceded her in death. Surviving her are four brothers, Ruhl Brown of Chicago; Bruce, Fred and Byron Brown of Detroit; two sisters, Mrs. Vemba Inge of Kansas City and Mrs. Cinda Hall of Pittsburgh.

Funeral will be Wednesday afternoon at the family home in Pittsburgh.

Marcus Shaw

Marcus Shaw, 87, a retired farmer, died at 1:30 a.m., today at his home east of Rogers.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Shaw, he was born Nov. 2, 1864 in Cambria County, Pa., and had lived on a farm near Rogers for 35 years. His wife, Nettie, died about 50 years ago.

Mr. Shaw leaves two sons, Orville of Emon Valley, Pa., and Carl at home; a daughter, Mrs. Pearl Glass of Canton; 14 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Van Dyke Funeral Home in East Palestine, where friends may call from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday.

Frank L. Ressler

Frank L. Ressler, 59, of Berlin Center died of a heart ailment at 5:20 a.m. today in City Hospital. He had been ill four years.

Born June 18, 1892, in Ellsworth, he was a son of Jerry and Nettie Dakin Ressler. He moved to Berlin Center from Ellsworth 39 years ago and was a retired telegraph operator for the Pennsylvania Railroad.

He was a member of the Masonic Lodge of Palmyra, the Auto-Mori Grotto of Youngstown and the Methodist Church of Berlin Center.

Besides his wife, Blanche, Mr. Ressler leaves a son, Frank at home, and a brother, Ward of Canton.

Services will be held at 2:30 p.m., Wednesday at the Williams Funeral Home at Canfield where friends may call tomorrow evening.

Two Fined, Jailed
For Cohabitation

Linville Brewer, 28, and Eloise Garsa, 28, arrested in the Metzgar Hotel here with two Cadiz sisters at 2:20 a.m. Sunday and charged with illegal cohabitation, were fined $100 and costs each and sentenced to 30 days in county jail by Mayor Harry M. Vincent today.

Authorities said the same charge will be pressed against Shirley Vargo, 21, who was found in a room with Garsa, when she is discharged from Central Clinic, where she was taken Sunday morning for childbirth.

Her 17-year-old sister, who occupied a room with Brewer, was returned to juvenile authorities in Jefferson County.

City police and a county deputy sheriff made the arrests following a tip by the hotel manager that two men staying there closely answered the description of a pair sought for the criminal assault of an 18-year-old Salem girl last Wednesday.

The girl did not identify either of the men as the attackers.

"A" is the first letter in all alphabets of the world except the Ethiopian.

Fined $25 and costs were: Stanley Wuehke, 26, of Cleveland; Alfred L. Cornell, 32, of East Liverpool; Leroy W. Evans, 21, of Vender, Neb.; Harold L. Rhodes, 24, of South Whitley, Ind.; Roy M. Boub, 53, of Cleveland; Walter E. Tumbleton, 31, of Winchester and Michael W. Spack, 29, of RD 2, Salem.

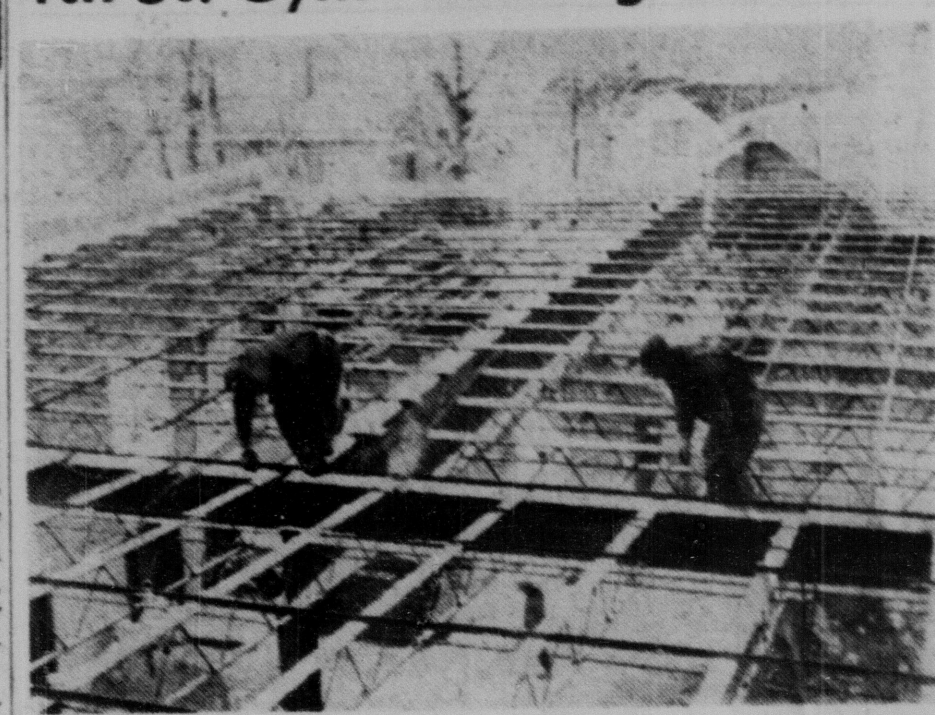

Leroy Michaels, 41, and Paul J. Mellon, 38, of Mercer, Pa., were fined $64 and $58 and costs, respectively.

IRONTON (AP)—The bodies of Betty Jo Blankenship, 19, and Paul Eugene McMahon, 20, were found Sunday night in a parked car near their homes. Coroner J. W. Payne said the deaths were from carbon monoxide poisoning.

KILLED GANGLAND STYLE
COLUMBUS (AP)—John E. Anderson, 54, described by police as a small-time gambler, was shot and killed in gangland style near his home here yesterday. Neighbors said they heard a shot and saw two men get into a car and speed away.

3rd CRASH VICTIM DIES
BUTLER, Pa. (AP)—A truck-auto crash claimed a third victim over the weekend when Lloyd A. Waite, 18, Pittsburgh, died of injuries received last Wednesday. The collision killed two others and injured two persons in addition to Waite. All were students at Grove City College.

4th St. Gym--Looking Down

THESE workmen welding the structural steel for the roof of the new gymnasium addition at Fourth Street aren't tripping the light fantastic as they walk atop narrow steel girders. The snow-covered framework makes the footing underneath none too secure. But there's a job to be done. The Cartwright Construction Co. workers must proceed with the job. Once the roof is completed, inside work can be pushed.

ston and William E. Hess, both of Cincinnati, were among seven who voted against the bill.

They were outvoted by 27 other committeemen.

Rep. Hays Silent
Elston reportedly will continue his opposition to the bill unless it is drastically changed on the floor of the House.

Republican Rep. Frank T. Bow of Canton is flatly opposed to UMT.

The comment of Rep. Thomas A. Jenkins of Ironton, dean of the Ohio Republican delegation in the House, was terse and to the point.

"I'm against it," he told a reporter.

Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester, a Republican leader, said:

"I have opposed any compulsory military service program as a matter of policy. I expect to do so this time."

Republican Reps. Frances P. Bolton of Lyndhurst and J. Harry McGregor of West Lafayette, and Democratic Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing still haven't taken a stand.

coats and high silk hats, walked slowly across the platform and took up positions just behind the green and mahogany gun carriage.

At the command of the honor guard officer, the cortege moved out past the thousands, many of whom had hailed in the chili drizzle for hours, some all through the night.

Six bay horses of the King's troop of Royal Horse Artillery pulled the caisson past the silent throngs who already have designated their late sovereign, "George the Good."

The body of the 56-year-old monarch who reigned 15 years lay in state amid the simple surroundings of the country Church of St. Mary Magdalene at Sandringham until this morning to enable the neighbors and workers to pay their tribute.

Skirling bagpipes mournfully bid him farewell there as a gun carriage took the body over country roads to nearby Wolferton Station for the last journey to London. Every station along the 103-mile route to London was closed.
